YOUR BEQUEST OPTIONS

A Residuary Bequest

You may wish to leave the whole, or a proportion of the residue, of your estate to Mukti Australia. This overcomes the potential loss of value of your proposed gift due to inflation over time.

A percentage

Many people share out their estate to people or organizations. You can state a percentage for each one. This avoids remaking the Will to compensate for inflation or possible changes in your estate.

A gift of opportunity

Property in the form of real estate, jewellery, works of art, antiques, stocks, bonds and shares can be bequeathed to Mukti Australia.

A specific cash sum

This needs to be reviewed regularly to offset the loss of value caused by inflation over time.

Suggested wording for your bequest:

I give the whole / the residue / a percentage of ___ % of my estate / the sum of $ ____ (select as you feel appropriate) to Mukti Australia Inc. A0040914J for its general purposes and I direct that the receipt of the Treasurer or other proper officer of Mukti Australia Inc. A0040914J shall be a full and sufficient discharge to my executor, who shall not be obliged to see to the application thereof.

WHAT IS A WILL?

A valid Will is a legal document which names the people and/or organizations who you nominate to receive your assets when you die. It also nominates your chosen Executor. Your assets generally include everything you own in your name, such as property, shares, bank accounts, household goods, personal effects and so on.

WILL INFORMATION

Everyone over the age of 18 should have a legal Will.

People who die intestate (without leaving a Will) can cause unintentional emotional and financial hardship for those they leave behind. If you die without a Will, your assets will be distributed according to law.

You can change your Will at any time. You should revise it periodically to reflect your changing circumstances.

Your first priority when preparing your Will is to provide for the immediate needs and future security of your family. The balance of your estate after all provisions have been made is referred to as the 'residue'. Many people look to this residue to provide a special Bequest to a church or mission agency, such as Mukti Australia.

If you already have a Will and wish to include a Bequest to Mukti Australia, you should consult your legal advisor. If the Bequest is straight forward, your Legal Adviser may suggest you simply execute a Codicil specifying the terms of your Bequest.

YOUR FREE ONLINE WILL WITH everywill

Wills written on Every Will are completely free of charge and include free updates for life. No matter how many times you change your mind, you can change your Will too. Even if you're not ready to pledge a gift to Mukti, you can still use this opportunity to complete your Will for free.

THINKING ABOUT YOUR WILL

When updating your Will, we would like you to consider leaving a Bequest to Mukti Australia. Through our partners in India and Sri Lanka, you can help bring hope and a brighter future to marginalised, vulnerable women and children in these countries.

BUILDING HOPE, HAND IN HAND WITH LOCAL PARTNERS

At Mukti Australia, we work alongside local partners in India and Sri Lanka. Pandita Ramabai Mukti Mission with its main campus located near Pune India, has been supporting over 100,000 women and children since 1889. The campus features comprehensive educational and vocational programmes, health services and actively works to prevent young girls from entering the sex trade in major red-light districts.

In Sri Lanka, Wings of Hope Lanka works with vulnerable women and children in poor socio-economic conditions in the city of Colombo and in the rural tea plantations. Their programmes seek to strengthen families and communities through education, health and nutrition, skills training and awareness workshops.

CONFIDENTIAL REPLY

If you have already included Mukti Australia in your Will we are most grateful. Not only will this allow us to plan ahead, but it will give the opportunity to thank you personally and to discuss with you how we will put your generosity to work.
